FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

COOLSPACE & O'Reilly Auto Parts are keeping Mechanics COOL!

COOLSPACE teamed up with O'Reilly Auto Parts in 2009 with the introduction of the WAVE series of personal portable evaporative coolers. Aware that the automotive market was lacking a quality evaporative cooler for the individual technician, COOLSPACE developed the WAVE portable evaporative cooler for O'Reilly stores throughout the country, resulting in record breaking sales.

The WAVE comes in two models, the CSW-12HV with a high velocity blower and the CSW-10LV with a low velocity prop fan. Both models are built with a thick, single piece, roto-mold housings that are durable and won't rust, unlike other brands with metal housings. The WAVE series comes standard with a large 10 gallon water reservoir, two speed air supply, 4" edge coated cooling media and four swivel casters.

Jack Montgomery of Dallas, TX stated: "I purchased the CSW-12HV at O'Reilly Auto Parts and it's a perfect fit for my residential garage and keeps me cool when working on my car. "

COOLSPACE has models for any size job, for the single person workstation to the large multi-bay service shops. All models are available at all O'Reilly Auto Parts store locations.
