GLOBAL WARMING BRINGS GLOBAL BUSINESS TO COOLSPACE

COOLSPACE has been on a strong growth both nationally and internationally with distribution across the US, Europe, Australia, Canada and now with its latest addition COOLSPACE Mexico. "COOLSPACE fits perfectly with Mexico, a hot climate with a large labor force (Jason Hammond, Dir. of Sales)". Mexico has been consistently growing with industrial and manufacturing plants moving in every year.

COOLSPACE is designed for hot work areas where air conditioning is not an option and the employees need some type of heat relief, such as automotive garage mechanics. It is scientifically proven that comfort in the work place will increase production. COOLSPACE provides an economical way of cooling down these hot jobs, everything from a large manufacturing plant to your local corner dry cleaner. COOLSPACE is a great way to improve comfort and production without high operating cost.

With global warming and energy conservation on the forefront, COOLSPACE is surfing this heat wave around the world. With industrial growth and warmer temperatures increasing every year, COOLSPACE is becoming a very "cool way" internationally, to keep your employees comfortable.
